Ethics in Dentistry: Its Evolution and Its Future
A Two-Day Colloquium
The American Academy of the History of Dentistry, a not-for-profit organization founded in 1951, has as its goals the following:

- Increasing interest among dentists in dental history
- Encouraging dental schools to develop historical collections on dentistry, and to offer adequate instruction in dental history
- Developing a broader understanding of the facts of dental history among the leaders in dentistry in order to aid them in their attempts in solving important problems in dental education and practice
- Stimulating more thorough and comprehensive research in dental history, thereby extending the boundaries of dental knowledge, giving substantial support to growing professional culture
- Creating an authoritative body to and servicing of existing subscriptions should be addressed to:

The preferred medium for manuscript submission is as a Microsoft (MS) Word® document along with high-resolution electronic images of related figures (if any) attached to an email message addressed to editor@histden.org. In addition, two paper copies of the manuscript double-spaced are to be mailed to the editor at the address above. Alternatively, the paper can be submitted as a MS Word document on a CD along with electronic images of the figures (if any) and two paper copies. The default sent (typeface) for MS Word is a Times New Roman, the typeface in which the manuscript should be submitted.

The second page should contain an abstract of no more than 200 words. This abstract should be factual and summarize the principal findings and conclusions include four to six keywords for indexing purposes.

REFERENCES

References should be listed at the end of the paper, typed double-spaced and numbered sequentially. When citing a reference in the text, follow these examples: Smith and Jones (1990) found... Use of the work cited by three or more authors. When the cited work is by two authors, use both surnames separated by "and" not "et al." List all authors if there are three or fewer; when four or more, list the first three, followed by et al. In general, abstracts, internal report, or other incomplete or inaccessible materials are not acceptable references. Reprints of research communications should be used sparingly.

SUBMISSION FORMAT

The following guidelines should be followed. The editor will consult the text to understand the captions. Additionally, all tables should be provided as figures in electronic format as discussed below.

ILLUSTRATIONS

Within the text, all tables, graphs, drawings, maps, photographs, scans, etc., are to be numbered in their sequence: Acknowledgements, References, Bibliographic Works

All tables should be typed one-to-a-page and numbered consecutively. Whenever possible, the text should begin with an introduction and end with separate Discussion Sections. For clarity of presentation, logical subheadings should be used wherever possible. The last element in a set of references is by three or more authors. When the cited work is by two authors, use both surnames separated by "and" not "&." When the cited work is by three or more authors, list the first three authors followed by "et al." In instances of multiple-authorship, indicate the author designated to receive correspondence concerning the JHD. Any abbreviations used in the legends must be defined in the corresponding caption for each figure.
